

You know your audience. You know the message.

You want to create memorable and effective communications tools – the kind that gets results. You need exciting new layouts, the ability to re-purpose one project for use in another, and a team to help pull it all together.

Professional design and layout is often the greatest challenge to a successful marketing communications effort. The solution? Let the design professionals at EPI-Colorspace create the exciting marketing tools that will effectively communicate your message.

EPI-Colorspace covers all the bases. We can create a dazzling logo and identity package, or work with you on your internet, advertising, or direct mail requirements. We can prepare collateral material, conference and tradeshow graphics, as well as posters and banners. Combined with our in-house digital imaging facility, finishing department, exhibit services group and framing operation, EPI-Colorspace is truly convenient...and your one-stop shop for graphic arts support.

Our staff is prepared to meet today's communications challenges in new and creative ways. Our advice? Spend some time with our team, review our creative portfolio, and ask EPI-Colorspace to assist with your next project.

Comprehensive. Convenient.
